The festival is also locally termed 'the three games of men'. The games are Mongolian wrestling, horse racing and archery and are held throughout the country. The three games of wrestling, horse racing, and archery had been recorded in the 13rd century book The Secret History of the Mongols. It formally commemorates the 1921 Revolution, when Mongolia declared itself independent of China. Women have started participating in the archery and girls in the horse-racing games, but not in Mongolian wrestling. The biggest festival is held in the Mongolian capital Ulaanbaatar, during the National Holiday from July 11th-July 13th, in the National Sports Stadium. It begins with an elaborate introduction ceremony featuring dancers, athletes, horse riders, and musicians. After the ceremony, the competitions begin. Another popular Naadam activity is the playing of games using shagai, sheep knuckles that serve as game pieces and tokens of both divination and friendship.

- The Mongolian National Wrestling: This spectacular event takes place in the Central Stadium. There are a total of 512 fighters, of which only one (1) will be the winner, losing the first to touch the ground, except for hands and feet. The wrestlers honor the judges and the public with the eagle dance before to start the round of matches, and the winner also performs the eagle dance after finishing each match. The title of Nachin or Falcón is given to a fighter who wins 5 rounds, Zaan or Elefante is a winner of 7 rounds. The wrestler who wins all 9 rounds becomes the national wrestling champion and is awarded the title of Arslan or Leon. A wrestler, who has been a Lion twice, is honored with the title of Avarga or Champion.

- Archery: Archery competitions had great military importance in the times of the Mongol Empire. The archers line up and shoot arrows at the target which are the hollow balls of fur stacked in a pyramid shape. The target consists of 360 leather rings fixed to the wall 40-50 cm high and 4 long. Men and women shoot 40 and 20 arrows respectively. Judges score a hit shot or a missed shot. If the archer is correct, the judges turn their faces towards the archer with their arms raised and sing the praise song. If the archer is correct, the judges turn their faces towards the archer with their arms raised and sing the praise song. The winner of archery is awarded a title Erkhin Mergen Kharvaach, which means Archer of Greater Wisdom.

• Horse races: they take place in the steppes with 1800-2000 horses and a distance between 15 to 30kms. This is a tough test of strength and mastery for riders of different ages, from 3 to 10 years old. The riders are girls and boys. They are races designed to value the horse and not the rider, if the rider falls and the horse crosses the finish line first, he is the winner. In addition, the riders do not exceed 10 years. In the horse race, more than 1,800 horses, divided into 6 age groups, take part in the races. The horses compete in the 35km distance, and the colts compete in the 15km distance.

• The launch of the taba (shagai in Mongolian): It consists of throwing a bone with the fingers and trying to hit two tabas placed on a board about 10m away. Shagai games are especially popular during Naadam. In the shagai game, the thrown shagai usually lands on one of the following sides: horse, camel, sheep, or goat. A fifth side, empty, is possible on uneven ground. The Mongolians venerate some parts of the bones of animals that are part of their domestic livestock and use them both in their religious rites and in their traditional entertainment and games. Knuckleball shooting is one of those traditional games, very popular, which is practiced in teams of six to eight members. On a smooth wooden plank, players throw thirty marble tablets – similar to dominoes – against a target made up of ram's paws to get them to fall within the defined target area. While practicing shooting, the players sing traditional melodies and songs typical of this game. Each member of a team has their own game instruments, made by hand, and wears clothing with badges that indicate their classification and merits. The bonds of friendship between the members of a team are unbreakable and the players are guided by rules of conduct based on dignity and mutual respect. The rites, knowledge and

Each member of a team has their own game instruments, made by hand, and wears clothing with badges that indicate their classification and merits. The bonds of friendship between the members of a team are unbreakable and the players are guided by rules of conduct based on dignity and mutual respect. The rites, knowledge and skills related to bone shooting, as well as the techniques for manufacturing instruments, accessories and equipment are passed on from masters to apprentices. The shooting of the knucklebones creates a propitious climate so that, learning from each other and helping each other, the players contribute to the success of their respective teams, as well as to their personal development and the general well-being of society. This traditional game brings together people of different origins, stimulates their interaction, fosters respect for others – particularly older people – and reinforces social cohesion. Inscribed in 2014 (9.COM) in the Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity.

It came under state protection in 1994. Here you will have the opportunity to attend a Buddhist ceremony. Next, we will visit a small museum of dinosaur fossils. The centerpiece of the museum is the 4m tall, 3 tonne UV light Tarbosaurus bataar (cousin of Tyrannosaurus rex) and a smaller Saurolophus, with its distinctive skull crest. The Tarbosaurus bataar made international headlines in 2012, when it sold for more than US$1 million at auction in Texas. The Mongolian government protested that the fossil had been illegally removed from Mongolia and demanded its return. The legal battle ended when a US judge ruled in favor of Mongolia. The museum also includes examples of Velociraptor and Protoceratops, and a nest of Oviraptor eggs. It is located inside the former Lenin Museum, built in the year 1974. While there are plans to expand it into a world-class institution, for now it is still a bit limited in specimens. After, watch Deel Mongol Festival: a deel is an item of traditional clothing commonly worn since centuries ago among the Mongols and other nomadic tribes of Central Asia, including various Turkic peoples, and can be made from cotton, silk, wool, or brocade. The deel is still commonly worn by both men and women outside major towns, especially by herders. In urban areas, deels are mostly only worn by elderly people, or on festive occasions. The Deel Mongol Festival is held in the Main square (*in the heart of Ulaanbaatar) on July 09 (*in 2022, it was agreed to celebrate it on July 09) and is comprised the folk-art concert, parade-show in the Deel of Mongolian national clothes and Mongolian Ger. The structure comprises an angled assembly or latticework of pieces of wood or bamboo for walls, a door frame, ribs (poles), and a wheel (crown, compression ring) possibly steam bent. The roof structure is often self-supporting but large yurts may have interior posts supporting the crown. Here you will see a large statue of the Genghis Khan-inaugurated in 2006 on the occasion of 800th Anniversary of the Great Mongolian Empire of Genghis Khan (1206-2006), the Sukh Baatar Hero along with The Parliament House, Stock Exchange, the Drama Theatre and the Palace of Culture. Welcome lunch in traditional local restaurant. Visit the National History Museum-where you will see artefacts from Mongolia and Central Asia from the Stone Age to the present. In 1878, the Polish-born Russian geographer and naturalist Nikolai Mikhailovich Przewalski found a new species of wild horse in Mongolia, known locally as Takhi, and took several foals to European zoos. The only way to prevent the complete extinction of the last species of wild horse was to reintroduce it into the wild. In 1975, the Dutchman Ian Bouman and his wife, and other entities that joined later, created the Foundation for the Conservation and Protection of the Przewalski Horse (FPPPH), with the aim of saving the Takhi from extinction through acclimatization. of the zoo specimens in open field pastures, for later release into the wild. In 1992, the FPPPH brought the first 15 horses to the Hustain Nuruu area in Mongolia, to reintroduce them to their original habitat. Currently, the population of takhi in the wild in Hustai Nuruu National Park reaches 220 individuals. The practice of taming wild animals and then returning them to the wild is truly rare. Visit to a small museum, about the history of the Hustain Nuruu National Park, about the founders, and the reintroduction of the Przewalski or Takhi wild horses in their original habitat. Excursion through the interior of the Hustain Nuruu National Park, exploration and observation of wild horses (*bring binoculars). July 15, Day 7-Breakfast. In the morning, excursion to see the relics of the ancient capital of the Mongol Empire: the legendary Erdene zuu (Hundred Treasures) Monastery, the two Turtle monuments, the Karakorum museum (with the archaeological finds of the early historical period successively including the Xiongnu/Hunnu, and the Turks), and beyond hidden in a small valley, is the 'phallic rock'- it is a statue of a penis raised on a platform in the steppe, located near the Erdene Zuu Monastery (built in 1585). The statue has dual functions; It is primarily a reminder to monks to remain celibate, but it is also a symbol of fertility and human life. The Erdene Zuu Buddhist Monastery with its 108 stupas and the first Buddhist Lamasery (16th century) was the most important religious seat. Currently it constitutes an impressive sight, with its walls, stupas and temples, occupying an enclosure of 400 square meters, and surrounded by the steppe. The construction was continued by his son 'Ogedei' Khan, after his death. After 40 years, 'Kublai Khan' (grandson of Genghis Khan and host of Marco Polo) moved the capital of the Empire to Beijing (Peking-Yuan dynasty), already invaded. In the year 1792, there were 62 temples left and more than 10,000 Lamas. In the year 1930, the Stalinist purges destroyed most of their temples and the Lamas were banished to die in Siberia. Of its more than one hundred temples, only three have survived to our era, it remains the most outstanding cultural vestige of Mongolia. After, lunch, departure by asphalt road (*with the help of the Turkish Government) in the direction of the Gokhturk museum in Khoshoo Tsaidam (Turkish Memorials) in honor of the Turkish princes in the Orkhon Valley (approximately 47.2km/30miles, 1hr), from the early 8th century Bilge Khan and Kul Tigin with their Orkhon inscriptions, written in the Old Turkic alphabet, which are admitted as the most impressive monuments of the nomadic Gokturk Khaganate. They were excavated and deciphered by Russian archaeologists in the years 1889-93. Next, departure by embankment towards Lake Ugii (approximately 32.3km, 1hr), an appropriate place for birds such as: swans, geese, cranes, ducks, pigeons, storks and other migratory species are cited in this area at the end of April, May and throughout the summer). Lake Ugii is located in the province of Uvurkhangai, where many migratory birds arrive at certain times of the year due to the abundance of fish. It is of great importance as a breeding and stopping place for waterfowl, for example, the white-necked crane (Grus vipio), the swan goose (Anser cygnoides), the great bustard (Otis tarda), the duck (Oxyura leucocephala), cranes common (Grus Grus), demoiselle cranes (Anthropoides virgo), black storks (Ciconia nigra), and species declared vulnerable or endangered in the Red Book. We will be able to admire and photograph a great variety of species such as the White-necked Crane and the Monk Crane surrounded by a beautiful valley where herds of sheep, horses, bulls, and yaks graze. Over 200 species of birds have been recorded at Lake Ugii, and where there are so many fish there are sure to be plenty of waterfowl; black-tailed godwit; Swan goose; Great Crested Grebe; whooper swan; Bar-headed goose; Rudy Shelduck; common goldeneye; Common Crane; and Northern Lapwing. Migratory birds arrive from May to June, from as far away as Siberia and the Himalayas. Here there is an opportunity for optional horseback riding, fishing, boat rides, kayaks, ornithological observation, etc. (*pay extra on site).
